 Just an FYI regarding new base code set ups...specifically, this stems from the creation of M806. Just so Dustin knows

Team,

I know this wasn't your decision though I have to ask, how are the thresholds set on new basecodes?

- Setting new basecode thresholds at minimum defaults, waiting for the customer to exceed and then requiring TCRs doesn't seem the best route. Banking on it affecting a smaller population, thereby being less work overall, seems a weak case but that's the only one I can think of.
- When thresholds were originally set for all our customers in 2008, the Regulatory team ran the historical usage and then took the highest month and added 10% to determine an appropriate threshold to be set. Why would adding any new basecode be treated differently?

We're being asked to provide operational excellence to our customers and flawless execution. Creating omits &/or requesting TCRs from our customers, while we have the historical data doesn't make us look efficient. Hence why we have Micheal running the data for the forthcoming Questionnaires, why we need to audit preloads before bringing onboard a new customer and why I would hope new thresholds are being set accordingly. I believe there are other new base codes? Only if we are made aware can we help prepare.

Thanks for working with us.

Yeah, I was building my case on that...you beat me to it Elaine.

Joe --

I'm pulling sales now to support the need for addition over 25% of 9170. The NDC they reference alone is pull an average of 29k pills per month (max of 32k).

We would need to increase even more than that for any other skus they are purchasing in that base code. I'll know more shortly once the reports finish.

In my opinion, this is the analysis that should have been done when M806 was set up...

EN Item Num (LOS)	Sell Description (LOS)	Mth Name	Pkg Size (C/Life)	Sales Qty
3688330	DIPHENOX+ATR TAB MYLN 1000@	FEBRUARY	1,000	27
3688330	DIPHENOX+ATR TAB MYLN 1000@	JANUARY	1,000	33
3688330	DIPHENOX+ATR TAB MYLN 1000@	MARCH	1,000	30

I'm just trying to follow,...
 Did I understand the customer to say below that they expect 37K doses this month?
 Does what Joe increased (25% of 61K) take us from 5K to 15K?
 What am I missing?

Micheal,

I've made an adjustment to the M806 base code for this account, so that it is around 25% of 9170. This sets a more appropriate value in correlation to the level that 9170 is set to.

Let me know if there are any issues going forward.

Have a great day!

Thanks,

Joe -

I need your help on this one...

This customer is already reaching threshold limits when trying to fill an order for NDC # 00378041510 DIPHEN/ATROP TAB 2.5MG. The problem is this NDC falls under base code M806, it would seem the max limit on this one is set way too low in comparison to the main base code 9170.

Can you advise why it was limited to what appears to be a default threshold when the main has available 61k?

Hi Michael

Did someone enter the forecasting wrong for this Base code for KCM ACT#734367. NDC#00378041510 DIPHEN/ATROP TAB 2.5MG has a monthly forecast of 37,000 tablets for the month and the threshold is only for 5000. Can I please have this raised up to match the forecast.

Thanks
